INTRODUCTION

In 1997 we published the proceedings of our first four Witness Seminars in modern medicine, funded by the Wellcome Trust. Somewhat optimistically, we called this 'volume 1', hoping that we might get funding and support to develop the series at least into double figures. After twenty years of generous funding, we have now published 62 volumes, containing the proceedings of 70 or so seminars, all of which are made freely available on the web.

The themes represented here were selected by a Programme Committee (until 2010) or were related to a Strategic Award from the Wellcome Trust (from 2010 until 2017). Topics cover the whole range of modern biomedicine: from clinical genetics to medical- and bio-technology; ethics to rural practice; pure lab research to clinical care; narrative medicine to neuroscience. Our meetings have attracted more than 1200 individuals who have contributed their recollections and comments, agreements and disagreements; several of them having contributed in multiple ways: attending or chairing a number of meetings, writing introductions to the published proceedings, providing commentaries and appendices.

Additionally, we have conducted further interviews with more than 65 people, either on audio or video, and usually both. Most, but not all, of these interviewees, have been previous participants at one or more Witness Seminars, and we have used an in-depth interview to enlarge upon experiences and views expressed in those seminars, to develop broader contexts, and to explore individual experiences in more detail. As with the Witness Seminars, all these interviews have been transcribed and edited, and made freely available online; and a small selection has been further edited and published as Voices of Modern Biomedicine.

One thing that emerges clearly from this work is that there is no such thing as 'an ordinary life', and we are enormously grateful to the many men and women who have trusted us with their memories, and contributed to one or both of our recording projects.

We now conclude the published Witness Seminar series with a register of the many people who have taken part in our meetings. Firstly, there is an alphabetical list of all participants, with a reference to the meeting(s) to which they contributed or to their individual interview. Secondly, we provide thumbnail portraits usually taken in the course of our Seminars or interviews. This list is not complete as not all participants were photographed, or provided copyright permission to use their images. Most portraits are available in colour at <http://www.histmodbiomed.org/witsem/vol63>.

Transcribers: Mrs Jaqui Carter and Mrs Debra Gee. Proof readers: Mrs Sarah Beanland, Ms Lucy Moore, Ms Fiona Plowman, and Mr Simon Reynolds. Indexers: Ms Liza Furnival and Ms Cath Topliff. Designers: Ms Julie Wood and Mr Akio Morishima.

Collaborators on individual volumes: Professor Virginia Berridge, Professor Peter Catterall, Professor Peter Harper, Dr Koichi Mikami, Professor Andy Ness, Professor Steve Sturdy, and Professor Doris Zallen.

Additionally, for all our meetings over the years, we depended a great deal on Wellcome Trust staff to ensure their smooth running: Audiovisual, Catering, Reception, Security, and Wellcome Images.

Finally, we thank the Wellcome Trust for generously supporting this programme for so many years.
